Clermont Chamber Announces Women's Golf Outing

The Women's Initiative Committee of the Clermont Chamber of Commerce announces the Second Annual Women's Golf Outing, "Breaking the Grass Ceiling", Monday, June 7 at Royal Oak Country Club. A program to encourage women doing business in Clermont County to come together for networking and professional development, the Clermont Chamber's Women's Initiative holds quarterly networking events and an annual Women's Day. Golf has long been a sport for doing business, so women should not let their resume be without it.

Held at Royal Oak Country Club, the outing is open to the first 50 women to register. Golfers of every level are welcome. Women's Initiative Committee members, Nancy Toole, Blue Chip Mailing Services; Carmelita Merrick, Brower Insurance Agency; Jenny Matthews, Chard Snyder; Summer Tyler, Environmental Partners, Inc.; Amy Grothaus Turner, HR Partners International; Michelle Edwards, Key Bank, Erin Turner, Martin Franchises; Stephanie Kirschner; Beth Madden, Sam's Club Eastgate; Lori Hansel, Sheakley; Nancy Ball, Boys & Girls Club of Clermont County; Susan Stockman, USI Insurance; Jennifer Justice-Haley, Valley Paint & Body and Cathy Sahlfeld, Workforce One of Clermont County, have planned a day that begins with a Golf Etiquette and Chipping Clinic at 10:30. The practice facilities are open prior to the round. In addition, a soup and salad bar lunch is served before the 9-hole scramble begins at 1:00. Each player will receive a "Member for a Day" gift certificate to Royal Oak Country Club.

Cost of the outing is $75 per golfer. Registrations are now being accepted by calling the Clermont Chamber 576-5000 or visiting www.clermontchamber.com. Don't miss this opportunity to build relationships, enjoy a day outdoors for you and build your business.
